Anderson Strader

Expresses Thanks

For All Kind Acts

ANDERSON STRADER, who for these many years has been a patient with a back injury, wrote a letter a couple of days expressing his thanks to all those who have been so kind to him.

Here is Mr. Strader's letter:

"To my wonderful friends:

"It has been almost two years since I have had anything in our paper, and I want to thank The Daily Register for sending me the paper for all these years.

"Some time ago Brother and Sister E. D. Wiley, Brother Tommy Swan and Brother Chaney bought me a radio and now this group of wonderful people has made up enough to get me a wheel chair—Brother and Sister Wiley, Brother Swan and his wife, Brother Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker and all the wonderful coal miners.

"And won't you thank Dr. Blackard and Dr. Tuttle and Dr. Skaggs and Dr. Berry for everything and the kind words they have said about me. Also my thanks to the registered nurses, the practical nurses and the student nurses who have been so kind.

"And I want to thank Claudine Hendrickson for the Bible she brought me. May God bless each and every one for what has been done to help me."

"Anderson C. Strader

HUMOR DEPT.: "Pull over, buddy," said the traffic cop. "You haven't got any tail light."

The motorist stopped, got out and examined the back of the car. He looked so genuinely horrified that the policeman was actually moved with sympathy.

"Well, mister, it's bad," said the officer, "but not that bad."

Recovering his voice the motorist stammered, "It's not the tail light... what's happened to my trailer?"

Also: Fond of practical jokes, a man, out of a clear blue sky, once sent a friend a telegram—collect— which read:

"I am perfectly well."

A week later the joker received a heavy package—collect—on which he had to pay considerable charges.

On opening it, he found a big block of concrete on which was pasted: "This is the weight your telegram lifted from my mind."

State to Auction Off Hodge's Lake Springfield Home

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Orville E. Hodge's Lake Springfield home, scene of many of the parties for which the free spending former state auditor became famous, will be auctioned off by the state next month.

Atty. George B. Gillespie, who is serving as an agent of the state in handling Hodge's properties, said the home has been valued at about $40,000.

The home and other Hodge properties were turned over to the state as restitution for Hodge's looting of the state treasury.

Gillespie said the house, which includes a boat dock, would be sold on a sealed bid basis.

A state caretaker has been living in the house since Hodge left the place to go to prison.

Midland to Build Housing Project At Carlinville

Midland Construction Company of Harrisburg has been awarded the general contract for the building of a housing project in Carlinville, Macoupin county, it has been announced by Pat Sullivan of Midland.

Sullivan said he was notified Wednesday that Midland Construction Company's bid of just $40 under a half million dollars was low among the twelve bids submitted.

The construction job includes the complete project, consisting of 46 apartments, a large maintenance-management building, street building and landscaping.

The apartments will be built as 23 brick veneer duplex homes and will range in size from one bedroom to four bedroom living accommodations.

Construction is under the Housing Authority of Macoupin county, under the direction of the Public Housing Administration, Chicago.

Sullivan stated the contract would be signed May 15 and work would start immediately after completion of the project in 365 days after the signing of the contract.

This is the largest contract Midland has received, but the company has experience in such construction, having completed the housing project in Byington Addition in Harrisburg and another housing project in Pinckneyville. The latter was a quarter million dollar job.

Successfully Midland was the successful bidder on a $100,000 school building program in Murphysboro.

Order 6th Fleet Into Eastern Mediterranean; Martial Law in Jordan

Iron Rule is Declared by King Hussein

Demands Syria Remove Troops from Divided Kingdom

By United Press
The powerful U. S. 6th Fleet moved into the war-threatened eastern Mediterranean today on urgent pre-drawn orders from Washington. The super-carrier Forrestal with the latest jet aircraft aboard, headed the fleet units which upped anchor in French and Italian ports so suddenly that some men on shore leave were left behind.

Washington diplomatic sources described the move as "precautionary" but they left no doubt of the gravity with which officials regarded the power struggle raging inside Jordan and the possibility it could engulf the whole Middle East in war.

As young King Hussein struggled to preserve his government against a leftist-led revolt, here were the day's major developments:

Premier Hussein Khalidi, a moderate, bowed to leftist threats and violence and resigned.

King Hussein called on former Premier Ibrahim Hashem, a firm friend of the West, to form a new government.

Troops Guard Amman
Hussein ordered his army to take over Jordan's towns and cities, declared martial law, imposed a strict curfew, and made an appeal to his people for peace and order. He also was reported to have ordered Syrian troops out of the country immediately or be forced out by his Iraqi allies.

Troops from Saudi Arabia and Iraq were reported to have taken up positions shielding the Jordanian capital of Amman from the pro-Communist Palestine section of the country on the west and from pro-Communist Syria in the north.

Proposal to Deepen Big Muddy Is Recommended to Chief of Army Engineers

WASHINGTON (UP)—A proposal to deepen the Big Muddy River and Deacoup Creek in southern Illinois has been recommended to the chief of Army engineers, Rep. Kenneth L. Gray (D-Ill.) said Wednesday.

Brig. Gen. J. L. Person, assistant chief of engineers for civil works, informed Gray that the recommendation was made recently by the Lower Mississippi River Division of the Army Engineers.

It called for a survey of the two streams to determine what steps are necessary and what the cost will be to improve navigation.

Gray said a final decision on conducting the survey will be made by Maj. Gen. E. O. Itchner, chief of the engineers, and the board of engineers for rivers and harbors, which is expected to meet in May. Congress would have to authorize the project and appropriate funds for it before work could begin.

It was estimated that it would cost about 125 million dollars to provide 9-foot channels in the river from the Mississippi River to Franklin County, Ill.

Supporters of the proposal hope it will improve economic conditions in the depressed areas of southern Illinois by providing cheap transportation for coal produced in the region's huge fields.

Gray said he thought Itchner and the board would uphold the division engineer report and approve the full survey.

Precautionary Move Due to Mid-East Crisis

Eisenhower and Dulles Regard Jordan Independence Vital

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States, keeping a worried eye on the crisis in Jordan, ordered its 6th Fleet today into the eastern Mediterranean in what was initially described as a "precautionary move."

The 6th Fleet, which includes the mighty aircraft carrier Forrestal and its far-ranging planes, is the major U. S. military force near the Middle East.

It would be the first to be ordered into action should American forces be called upon to intervene in Jordan under the Eisenhower Doctrine.

There has been no indication as yet, however, that such intervention will be requested by Jordan, and U. S. officials, although concerned, were viewing developments there calmly.

A "Precautionary Move"

They said that King Hussein, backed by a loyal army and friendly neighbors in Iraq and Saudi Arabia, appeared to be strong enough to hold its own against riotous leftist elements and even should pro-Soviet Syrian troops intervene.

They said that Iraqi forces alone are stronger than Syria's and that any help given by Saudi Arabia would add to Hussein's strength.

The State Department had no official comment on the situation this morning. But President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles already have said that they "regard the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital."

Diplomatic sources said ordering the 6th Fleet closer to Jordan was a "precautionary move." The fleet has been in French and Italian ports for the past 10 days.

Naval observers pointed out that the fleet moved into the same area when the Suez Canal crisis erupted in the order to be nearer the trouble spot.

But despite the official calmness, it was clear that the United States may be heading for its first test of the Eisenhower Doctrine if the situation in Jordan deteriorates to the point where Communist and pro-Russian elements get the upper hand.

It was significant that in saying they "regard the independence and integrity of Jordan as vital," Eisenhower and Dulles deliberately used language taken from the doctrine. It declares the independence and integrity of Middle East nations vital to U. S. interests.

The doctrine offers U. S. military help, if requested, and economic aid to any Middle East nation beset by international communism.

'Tony' Thompson in Serious Condition in St. Louis Hospital

A. D. "Tony" Thompson, Harrisburg building contractor, who has suffered intermittent illness during the past year, was taken to St. Luke's hospital in St. Louis last Friday, and today was reported in a serious condition. Physicians indicated if they were unable to stabilize a heart condition within the next few hours, Mr. Thompson's condition would reach a critical stage.

We Understand, Krushy

Russia gave us a fresh lesson recently in how much communism
"does" for the masses of its citizens.

Arbitrarily it decided to put off for a full generation the repayment of 65 billion dollars borrowed from the people through their regular purchase of government bonds. And it announced it wouldn't pay any interest on the money in this 20-25 year period.

Communist party boss Khrushchev said the plan would not be understood abroad, particularly among capitalists. Well, it's understood, all right. It amounts to the confiscatory use of the people's money, nothing less.

According to dispatches, workers in various factories greeted with "stormy applause" the announcement that they weren't going to get their money back within the originally described time. But we all know how the Russians manufacture enthusiasm by threat of reprisal. It's doubtful if that applause would register well on high fidelity equipment.

So this is the way the masses are helped by communism. Bonds are sold in evident good faith, and the terms of their redemption changed later. The deal thus becomes a kind of long term embezzlement scheme, allegedly temporary. You just lift the citizens' money. And when you put an official government seal on the arrangement, the workers will cheer you.

Those old-time capitalist robber barons begin to look like pretty straight chaps.

Ike's Humanness

The first few months of President Eisenhower's second term hardly classify as the kind of honey-moon presidents usually enjoy when re-elected by stunning majorities.

Ike perhaps has heard and read more criticism of himself and his administration in this span than at any time during his tenure. And, if we can believe what we learn from those close to him, he isn't exactly thick-skinned about it.

Indeed, more than once in recent news conferences his temper has flared like a Roman candle as he reacted to sharp jibes from newsmen.

Even his severest critics concede to him, however, a basic humanity that most of the time rides over these incidents and keeps his outlook cheerful.

Perhaps this quality was never more in evidence than when he responded to his older brother Ed-gar's criticism of his $1.8-billion-dollar budget.

He might have been speaking for uncounted number of younger brothers when he replied: "Edgar has been criticizing me since I was five years old."

This may not go far toward solving the budget problem, but does anybody care?

TEEN CRIME RISE—Arrests of persons under 18 in the United States in 1954 took a startling leap in cities. An overall increase of 17.3 per cent has been disclosed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which pointed out that this is not due to an increase in number of young people in the U. S. population total as this group rose only 3 per cent.

Limousine Phones Little Used by Top Secretaries

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—One of the fancier gadgets which the 10 top secretaries in President Eisenhower's Cabinet have to play with is the private telephone in the back seat of each of their limousines. Half a dozen other top White House officials who sit in on the Cabinet meetings have these phones, too.

They're all hooked up by short-wave radio through the mobile telephone service, which is a part of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. system in the greater Washington area.

If it ever became necessary to do so, a full Cabinet meeting could be held while the President and all the secretaries were seated in their limousines, traveling in a dozen different directions. A conference call would do the trick.

It's a kind of ultramodern party line. Everybody on it can listen in to everything every other subscriber is saying. In this respect, the security of the system isn't too good. But the frequency is secret.

Fact of the matter is that these limousine telephones are little used. Some of the Cabinet members feel a bit silly about having them, and wish they didn't.

ONE OFFICIAL, whose name is withheld, got sore the first time he tried to use it because he couldn't get his call through. He hasn't touched it since.

But, on occasion, the limousine phones have been useful. The White House has caught a few officials on the way to the airport and dragged them back to handle some emergency.

The system was installed for the Operation Alert civil defense test last year. There was no publicity at the time. But the installations were made at the suggestion of the Office of Defense Mobilization, which ran the exercise, to keep in touch with Cabinet officers as they were speeding to their emergency hideout headquarters.

When there is no such simulated attack by 1,000 Russian atomic bombers, the phones can be used by Cabinet members to call their offices. They can be connected through their departmental switchboards to any subordinate who may need a bawling out for some dereliction that the secretary may have noted while reading his morning paper, seated comfortably in the car.

WHAT'S WORSE, a secretary's office may even call him while he's on his way home after a hard day. He can be told to come back and sign his mail, or that Congressman Zelig is on the phone and won't hang up till he gets assurance he can have that dam he wants, or that airport.

A secretary's wife, knowing the extension number of the limousine, could even call him and tell him not to forget his rubbers, or to pick up a pound of hamburger on the way home.

It's a vicious installation, in a way. It never lets a high official get completely away from a telephone to remind him of his many troubles. He can't completely relax and enjoy the scenery, knowing there's a phone handy that may ring. Fortunately, these government limousine phones seldom do.

It won't do the average citizen or a crank any good to try to call up one of these officials while he's out joy riding. The limousine phone numbers aren't listed in the phone book. And unlisted numbers are never given out.

To place a call from the limousine, the official merely lifts his receiver and gets the mobile service exchange. Then he can call whatever number he wants in the regular telephone system.

COST OF THIS convenience to the taxpayers is $25 for each installation plus $15 a month for service, with a $7 a month guarantee which entitles each phone to 120 units of service a month. One unit of service costs five cents. A three-minute call from a limousine to a local land-based phone is six units or 30 cents. That means 20 such calls a month for the service charge.

Additional calls cost extra. Limousine-to-limousine calls cost more. Limousine to ship or aircraft phones cost more, as do long-distance calls.

But if he wanted to, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles could call up Moscow from his limousine and ask 'em how the weather was over there.

May Fellowship Day, Friday, Will Focus Attention on Schools

"How are the schools?" is a familiar query in this day of serious overcrowding and teacher shortage.

In Harrisburg, as in thousands of other communities, parental anxiety behind this question will find answers when residents join in the annual observance of May Fellowship Day, Friday, May 3, at 7:30 p. m. in the Fellowship hall of the First Christian church.

"Are there enough schools and enough well trained teachers? Does every child have equal opportunity for learning?" are questions many ask.

The national observance on the first Friday in May, sponsored locally by the Harrisburg Council of United Church Women, will focus on a searching look at the public schools, here as well as elsewhere across America. Local citizens will present a program designed to give the community firsthand knowledge of its schools and how to strengthen them.

Russell Malan will be the speaker for the meeting and an interfaith coffee hour will be observed.

The theme of the day, Free Schools in a Free America, was chosen by United Church Women, a general department of the National Council of Churches, which represents 'en million women of the Protestant and Orthodox churches in the United States. The purpose is to arouse people to the fact that American schools are in jeopardy; that they are the problem of all; and that as Christians we must assume responsibility for seeing that our schools fulfill their heritage as free institutions of learning.

The history and growth, as well as current problems in connection with the local schools will be thoroughly aired. Among questions to be posed are the adequacy of the school system for all children, the conditions needed or to be maintained to attract good teachers, and secure effective school boards, and ways for citizens to influence the school program constructively.

"Almost every community in the nation is faced with school difficulties," said Miss Bess Pemberton of 218 West Lincoln, president of the local council of United Church Women, in announcing the 1957 observance. "For every seventy-one pupils enrolled in American schools ten years ago, there are one hundred today. We have failed throughout the country to build new schools rapidly enough or to train enough teachers. Minority groups have suffered the most. But if each community will study and attack its own problems, we can help rectify the present serious situation."

"We have come a long way from the little red school house," says Mrs. Alfred Chapman of Washington's Crossing, Pa. chairman of the National Fellowship Day. "Now many things need improvement. For one thing, the statistics on teachers' salaries show a national average for 1954-55 was but $3,932. As a result too many teachers leave the schoolroom for better paying jobs industry. There are still 'acres of apathy' on the part of the public toward their schools," she said.

United Church Women began its sponsorship of May Fellowship Day in depression ridden '33, when a small band of church women met in New York to see what they could do through study, prayer, and direct action to help meet the needs of all who make up the community. In the twenty-three years intervening, United Church Women have grappled with many knotty questions, not the least of which is the 1957 issue of assuring American children the schooling that will best equip them for abundant living.

Consider 'Runt' Bishop for State Planning Post

SPRINGFIELD 17.—Former U. S. Rep. C. W. (Runt) Bishop is under consideration for the $8,000 a year job as chief of the state division of industrial planning and development, it was learned today. The post has been vacant since Dec. 15 when Fred R. Falkenstein resigned.

The division was created in 1955 to coordinate efforts to attract new industry to Illinois.

Bishop, a Carterville Republican, was defeated for Congress in 1954 by Kenneth Gray, West Frankfort Democrat who was re-elected in 1956.

Gov. William G. Stratton's office would comment only that Bishop is under consideration and that no final decision can yet be announced.

Leo Sliva, Olney, will conduct the massed high school chorus; Miss Margaret Smith, Herrin, will

Friendship Club Meets With Mrs. Louise Johnson

The United Friendship club met recently in the home of Mrs. Louise Johnson, RFD 4, for a business meeting and a potluck supper. During the business meeting dues were collected and Mrs. Colbert, a member at the time of the club's beginning in October of 1954, was reinstated, after having been away from the community for a year. Leona Colbert was accepted for membership.

The members brought handmade items to be judged by Fern Williams, of Eldorado, Leona Colbert of Wason and Tessie Wathen. These judges awarded first prize to Goldie Grubbs for her pillow cases, second prize to Elmer Jean Johnson for a dresser scarf, and third prize to Helen Rice for two handkerchiefs. The other members received a hand made gift to keep as a token of friendship.

Games were played and prizes awarded, the door prize going to Helen Rice and the Banner for this month to Louise Johnson.

Potluck was served on a large table and those attending were: members, Virginia Murphy, Elmer Jean Johnson, Freda Grubbs, Helen Rice, Belva Morris, Jean Pritchett and the hostess; guests, Tessie Wathen, Fern Williams and son, Eddie Joe, Leona Colbert, Beverly Grubbs and Clara Grubbs.

Mrs. Max Swan Hostess Dorris Heights Home Bureau

The Dorris Heights Home Bureau met in the home of Mrs. Max Swan, Tuesday evening. Eleven members answered roll call naming, "my favorite flower." There were three guests, Mrs. Don Vinyard, Mrs. Joe Miller and Miss Mary Alice Holland. Program interest blanks were filled in and the major topic, "Canning and Freezing" was presented by Mrs. Roger Taylor.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

CORRECTION

Among the list of retiring officers of the 24th District Federation of Women's clubs, the names of the following were inadvertently included: Mrs. Clyde Pittman of Harrisburg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Roy Seel of Ozark, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Alta Porter of Harrisburg, historian. These women have another year to serve in their respective offices and should have been named as continuing in office for another year.

Directing the grade school singers; and Lloyd Higginson, Vandalia, will lead the elementary school band.

Directing the "Singing Games" routine will be David McIntosh, veteran Southern Illinois University musician who has devoted more than 30 years of work to research on musical folklore of the region.

Playing the program's special production music and fanfares will be the Mt. Vernon Township High School band, directed by Charles Gregg.

Of the thousands of youthful performers who will descend on the campus for morning rehearsal sessions, some 75 vocal, baton and piano soloists will audition in a preliminary to the Chicagoand Music Festival. The outstanding pianist will be featured on the Festival program that evening.

In the event of rain — and no "Music Under the Stars" show has ever been completely washed out — Lutz, accompanied by SIU music student Nancy Schneider, Gillespie, another SIU music graduate, will give a recital at 8 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium. The remainder of the program will be rescheduled to May 18.

Medical Insurance For Retired Workers

CHICAGO (AP)—A Morton Grove, Ill., manufacturing firm claims it is the nation's first major industry to give retired employees medical care insurance.

Bell & Gossett Co. said the coverage is in the form of single premium contracts, effective on the retirement dates of the employees. It insures both them and their wives for the rest of their lives, the company said.

The company said it will pay the entire cost of coverage for both the employee and wife in the case of all employees retiring after 20 years' service. Employees retiring after less than 20 years will be covered by payment of a substantial portion of the cost. Normal retirement age at the company is 65.

The plan, worked out in cooperation with actuaries of the Continental Assurance Co., provides hospital benefits for 31 days at $14 a day, a $210 maximum for miscellaneous hospital charges, and surgical benefits ranging from $5 to $300, the company said.

Fair Warning

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP)—Ralph West believes persons who use his driveway here should get a fair warning.

This is the sign he put up: "Caution—3 boys, 1 girl, 2 dogs, 4 bicycles, 1 motor scooter, 1 tractor with equipment and poison ivy—proceed at your own risk."

THE STORY: Allan Larg and Mollie are in Seknou, home of a famous pirate two centuries ago. This pirate Al Merhametsir was reputed to be a relation, and his picture hangs in their home in Scotland. They meet a priest, Father Paleologue, who says he might help them.

VI

There was only one other couple staying in the hotel—a middle-aged Frenchman with an ultra-smart young wife, whom Allan and Mollie christened the Bon Vivant and the Smashing Blonde. They exchanged never a word throughout their meal, and disappeared immediately afterward, just about the moment when Allan was saying:

"I wonder if they've got any decent brandy here?"

He asked the Arab waiter, who disappeared toward the bar, and returned a minute later with the manager.

"Will you do me the honor of accepting a glass of brandy as the guest of the hotel?" he asked.

"That's very good of you," said Allan, "I certainly will. Won't you join us?"

"I shall be honored to, if Madame has no objection." He turned and spoke rapidly to the waiter.

"I find your Arabic here difficult to understand," said Allan.

"That is not surprising," said the manager, "for it is not Arabic at all. It is Berber that most of us speak."

"May I say how well you speak English?" said Mollie, bringing out her knitting.

"You are too polite. I spent three months with a family in Croydon. My mother was anxious I should learn. . . . Ah, here is your digestive."

They drank each other's healths politely.

"Does your mother live on Seknou?" asked Mollie.

The manager smiled his wide smile. "Yes. She comes from a very old Seknou family. She owns the hotel."

"Really? Does she live in it?"

"No. She lives a very retired life. . . . Have you enjoyed your first afternoon in Seknou? You went down to the harbor?"

"I went," said Allan. "I was particularly interested in the Bordj el Agareb."

"Tell me," interrupted Mollie, "can one bathe here?"

"Not quite here," said the manager, "but if you will let me know I will send you out by car to a nice beach 15 minutes away. How long do you think you will be staying? I am asking out of curiosity, not as manager of this hotel. I hope you will make a very long stay."

"You seem to be the exception, then," said Allan; "everybody else is trying to tell me that they are expecting trouble in Seknou, and that we oughtn't be here."

The manager smiled again. "Everybody is always expecting trouble in Seknou," he said. "I am sure you know something of our history. I see from your fitches that you come from Scotland. Are not the English always expecting the Scotch to make trouble? The Seknou family are the Scotch of Tunisia."

"Then we ought to get along very well," said Allan. "Tell me, how long has your family been in Seknou?"

"Oh, many years. Generations. But tell me, how did you hear of Seknou?"

"Well, it's a long story," began Allan.

"Too long," said Mollie, "for Mr. . . ."

"Fernana is my name," said the manager.

Allan got as far as saying, "Well, the fact is that I rather believe my family once had some connection with this place," when, insensitive as he was, he became aware that his wife was willing him not to baste his hobbyhorse yet again.

"That's interesting," said Fernana; but Mollie was too quick for him, and brought him back rather brutally to his position as manager of the hotel, by saying: "We've had a long day, and it's time for bed." She got up, gathering her knitting as she did so. Allan got up, too, looking slightly bewildered.

"Why were you so offhand, Mollie? What was wrong? He wasn't as bad as all that, was he?" said Allan, as they shut the door of their room.

"You silly old goose!" said Mollie. "Didn't you spot he was trying to pump you? There's something funny about him, and I can't make out what it is."

Mollie was still dressing when, at 9 o'clock he went downstairs to wait for her in the garden. As he passed the hotel office, a waiter came out with a note addressed Monsieur le Colonel Larg. He tore it open, thinking that it must be from Paleologue, and was surprised to find inside it a visiting card inscribed Capitaine Marie-Joseph Billon, and below, written with a thin pen, reviviera a 9h 30. "Is Monsieur Fernana there?" The waiter bowed and disappear-

Dr. Duke McCall Will Be Featured Speaker at Training Union Convention

One thousand Baptists from Illinois will assemble in Carbondale today, Friday and Saturday to attend the State Training Union convention. The convention will be held in the Walnut street Baptist church of Carbondale.

Featured speaker for the convention will be Dr. Duke K. McCall, Louisville, Ky.

As president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Dr. McCall heads one of the largest theological seminaries in the world. As a member of the Baptist World Alliance Executive Committee, his influence touches 15,000,000 Baptists.

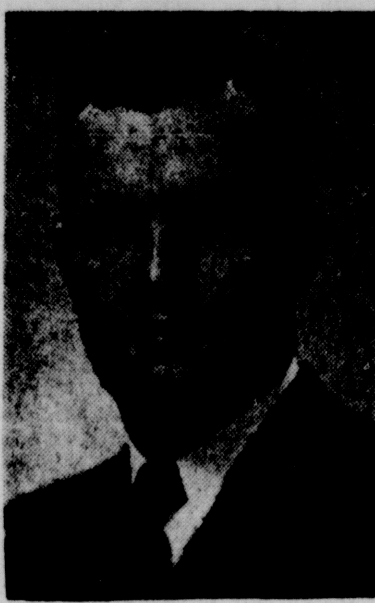

Dr. McCall is a native of Mississippi, the son of Judge and Mrs. John W. McCall of Memphis, Tenn. He left the pastorate of the historic Broadway Baptist church of Louisville, Ky., in 1943 to accept the presidency of the New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisiana, becoming one of the youngest graduate school presidents in the United States.

In May, 1946, he became executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention's Executive Committee, where for five years he led 7,000,000 Southern Baptists in their worldwide evangelistic, educational, and benevolent work. He returned to the theological field in 1951 as president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. The 57-year-old school is the oldest seminary in the Southern Baptist Convention and third oldest Baptist seminary in the nation.

Dr. McCall is well known in Carbondale as he was S. I. U.'s Religious Emphasis Week speaker last winter.

He is a frequent contributor to denominational publications. He is the author of God's Mercy (Broadman Press, 1949) and co-author of Passport to the World (Broadman, 1951), which is the story of his trip around the world in 1950. He is also editor of a new book of studies in the New Testament doctrine of the church, to be published by Broadman Press in 1957. Dr. McCall has made numerous trips abroad, visiting 30 countries on five continents.

In addition to his executive ability, Dr. McCall is an excellent speaker and preacher, participating in many types of religious, educational, and civic affairs. He served as a panelist on "The Moral Side of the News", over WHAS, Louisville, which received nationwide recognition in 1955 for its contribution to inter-racial good will. He is also a member of the United States Air Force's civilian Committee on Chaplaincy Training and a member of the board of visitors of the Air University of the U. S. Air Force. He is a member-at-large of the National Council of Boy Scouts of America, and has been president of the National Temperance League since 1953. Dr. McCall holds the A. B. De-

Five Persons Dead in Flash Floods By Tornadoes, Storms in Texas

By United Press

Violent rainstorms and tornadoes have touched off a series of flash floods in central Texas, killing several persons and causing heavy damage in a number of towns.

At least five persons were reported dead.

Mayor Sam Wood of Killeen, an Army town of 21,000 persons, said his city sustained damage of between $1,400,000 and $2,000,000 Wednesday when Nolan Creek became a torrent.

Bedillo Gonzales, his wife, Benita, and their six-year-old son, Pedro, were drowned when the raging stream swept their small home away. Mrs. Gonzales' body was found about 200 yards from the site of the house and her husband's body was found a half-mile away. The boy's body had not yet been recovered.

Mrs. J. T. Walker, 17, of Austin, and her baby son drowned when water swept their automobile off a highway near Johnson City. A companion, Mrs. Clara Joe Huckaby of Austin, was rescued.

Editors Asked To Fight Wilson Secrecy Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Information subcommittee asked the nation's leading editors and publishers today for help in its fight against Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's information orders.

The action was the latest round in the subcommittee's long quarrel with Wilson over his department's practices on release of information not involving national security.

Subcommittee Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) said Congress may have to pass legislation specifically designed to curb Defense Department secrecy unless the department itself reverses what Moss called its "current trend" toward greater secrecy.

He asked a picked list of editors and publishers for their advice and suggestions on what such legislation should contain.

Wilson accused the subcommittee Wednesday of undermining "the constitutional separation of powers" between Congress and the executive branch of government.

What drew Wilson's fire was an announcement by Moss and three other Democrats that they were sponsoring legislation to blast a hole in the government's "paper curtain of secrecy." Moss cited Wilson as one official who has abused a "loophole" in existing laws to further restrict military information to Congress.

Knowland Sees Tax Cut in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland today suggested Congress may cut taxes in January 1958.

Knowland was the latest congressional leader to suggest the possibility of a tax cut the first of next year.

House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. has said he believes a tax cut will be approved early next year. Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack have forecast the possibility of a tax cut in January.

Bible Discussions at Ledford Primitive Baptist

The Bible study at the Ledford Primitive Baptist church Wednesday night centered around the birth of Christ.

Such questions arose as: Where did Christ live when the wise men came to see Him? From whence did the wise men come? Who were they? What was the star they saw? Was it such a star as we ordinarily see in the heavens? Could such a star stand over any particular house so as to identify it? Did it lead them to Jerusalem? Did it lead them to Bethlehem? How old was Christ when they came to visit Him? Why did Herod order all children two years old murdered? These were interesting questions, and those attending were well entertained in discussing them. The public is invited to attend every Wednesday night at 7 o'clock.

3 Teen-Agers Face Murder Charges For Shotgun Killing

CHICAGO (AP) — Three white teen-agers, two boys and a girl, faced possible murder indictments today for the shotgun killing of a Negro youth.

State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski announced he would seek murder indictments against David Vandersteeg, 19, Dennis Moffitt, 18, and Eunice Miller, 17, Vandersteeg admitted Wednesday that he fired the shotgun blast from his father's car at a group of Negro teen-agers on the South Side "just to scare them."

But Curtis Bivens, 17, a janitor's helper, was hit in the chest and died within an hour.

Authorities said the three youths admitted returning to Moffitt's home for the shotgun after a group of young Negroes threw rocks and bottles at their car.

Daylight Time Returns Sunday with More Affected Than Any Peacetime Year

By United Press

Daylight time returns Sunday and more persons will be involved in the clock setting operation than ever before in peacetime.

And, a United Press survey showed today, you'll be more likely to get a straight answer to the question, "What time is it?"

Fifteen states, including three new ones, will have daylight time throughout. Twenty-five states will keep standard time. Eight will have a mixture.

The District of Columbia also will be on daylight time.

The time change begins at 2 a. m. Sunday, local time, and runs till the last Sunday of September or October, depending on the area.

The three new daylight states are Indiana, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Wisconsin voters approved the time change in an April 2 referendum, ending a 40-year dispute. Cities fought for it to get an extra hour of evening sunshine "for better health, more recreation and better family life." Farm groups opposed it on grounds it would dispute the farmer's schedule.

Indiana has been plagued by a patchwork of confusing clock schedules with a zigzag line running roughly down the center of the state dividing time zones. A new daylight time law has teeth. Officials of governmental units ignoring it can be fined and jailed.

The time linked across the nation:

Area AF Reserve NCO Reassigned To Overseas Duty

T. Sgt. Edwin Prevo, NCO in charge of Air Force Reserve activities in southern Illinois with headquarters in Carbondale, has been reassigned to overseas duty and will leave Carbondale Monday, April 29.

Sgt. Prevo worked from headquarters of the 9639th Air Reserve Squadron and until just recently there were four flights for training purposes, located in Carbondale, Mt. Vernon, Carmi and Harrisburg. The flight in Harrisburg was closed at the end of March when it failed to meet the minimum attendance requirements of the Air Force.

Members of the Harrisburg flight have been assigned to flights in either Carbondale or Carmi, according to the individual's choice.

Wednesday evening, following the regular meeting of the Carbondale flight, members of the 9639th ARS presented Sgt. Prevo with a 35mm camera at a little "going away" party in appreciation for the services he had rendered at the Air Force reserve program.

Attending the meeting from Harrisburg was Lt. Colonel Bill Melton, AFRes.

Amendment to Give 18-Year-Olds Right to Vote Goes to House Floor

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to give the vote to 18-year-olds went to the House floor today with a favorable committee vote.

However, Republican Majority Leader John W. Lewis Jr., Marshall, expressed some doubts about how hard the administration would press for final approval of the proposed amendment.

Gov. William G. Stratton urged the 18-year-old vote in his inaugural message. But only three amendments to the constitution can be made at one time, and the administration also is pushing for judicial reform, abolishment of the elective offices of state auditor and treasurer, and other constitutional changes.

Meanwhile, a Senate subcommittee approved a lobbyist registration act drafted by Sen. Egbert B. Groen (R-Pekin) and will submit the bill to the full Senate Judiciary Committee.

Vote Pay Raise

However, before approving the bill the subcommittee eliminated from it provisions that would have prohibited "log rolling" or the practice of trading votes among legislators, and the practice of promising votes in return for favors from the governor.

Groen at first said "You can't separate the lobbyist from the dishonest legislator," but then he agreed to the deletions in his bill.

The House Executive Committee Wednesday voted to send the proposed 18-year-old vote amendment to the floor with a recommendation for passage by a count of 19-11.

3 R's are Still Taught with Hickory Stick

WASHINGTON — The 3 R's can still be taught to the tune of a hickory stick in three-fourths of the nation's schools. That is the surprise finding of a nationwide survey of school discipline just completed by the National Education Assn. The survey also showed teachers generally are far less disturbed about behavior of today's school children than some outside who 'hink juvenile delinquency runs rampant in the classroom. More than 90 per cent of the teachers covered rated their students "well behaved." The NEA's research division sent questionnaires to 10,000 teachers. They were selected by the "random sample" method to provide a representative cross-section of the nation's more than one million public school teachers.

Dr. Sam Lambert, head of the research division, said the replies repudiated a popular idea that corporal punishment is a vanishing feature of American school life. Nearly half the teachers said they personally had authority to administer whippings to unruly pupils if they considered it necessary. And 75 per cent said the principal of the school had such authority. The NEA did not ask right out how extensively corporal punishment is actually used. But it learned through a roundabout question that most teachers consider "spanking rights" a necessary feature of running an orderly classroom. To the question, "Do you think classroom teachers should be allowed to administer corporal punishment to pupils in elementary school grades?" 77 per cent of the teachers replied yes. Two-thirds also held out for spanking rights in junior high school while 37 per cent said whipping should be permitted even in high school.

Bull Dog Nine Loses 4-3 Tilt To Norris City

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs baseball team was nosed out, 4 to 3, by Norris City at the VFW diamond in Harrisburg yesterday afternoon.

Norris City got nine hits off Trevor Whiteside, the starting pitcher, and Jerry King, the loser. The Bull Dogs were able to collect only three safe blows off Johnson, Norris City hurler who struck out 11. Johnson, Norris City's great basketball floor man, also hit a double and a triple.

Harrisburg hits were by Mickey Stone, Don Pickford and Ray Hassett. The locals scored once in the second on two walks, a hit batsman and an error and two in the fourth on two errors, a walk and Hassett's single.

In the final inning Harrisburg had the bases loaded and one out but the next two batters popped up.

Coach John Dotson used the following players: Pavelonis 3b, Stone 2b, Cummins ss, Pickford lf, Maynard 1b and 3b, Hassett 1b and rf, Aldridge cf, Vick c, Wathen rf, Whiteside p, and King p.

Bright spot in the Harrisburg play was the fact that the boys executed two double plays during the contest.

The locals will travel to West Frankfort this afternoon for a contest.

FIRING LINE—A pitcher's job isn't done once he throws to the batter, as Robin Roberts of the Phillies, left, and Johnny Antonelli of the Giants found out when they pitched against each other for the first time this season. Roberts whirled too late to grab this liner which zipped past him. And Antonelli jerked his head up in time to see a grounder hop over him.

Homer Barrage by A's Buries Indians, 17-6; Reds Get Nine Walks in 7-Run Inning

By United Press
 Those clouting Kansas City Athletics are kicking up the biggest racket in the American League today with an eye-popping home run barrage that's silencing all critics who wrote them off as "a farm club of the Yankees."

Only a half game out of first place, the Athletics actually are beating the Yankees at their own game—the home run. Lou Boudreau's fence wreckers have blasted 16 homers so far, the top total in the major leagues.

They slammed out five Wednesday night in burying the Cleveland Indians, 17-6, and some skeptics may point to the "short porch" the A's have to aim at in Kansas City, but half of their homers have been hit on the road.

Lopez Blasts Pair
 Hector Lopez led the fireworks with a pair of circuits that helped him drive in six runs while Harry Simpson, Lou Skizas and Hal Smith each chipped in with one. Bob Lemon, Cleveland's starter, failed to survive the second inning. Ned Garver gave up only three hits and struck out nine over the first eight innings, then weakened in the ninth and needed relief from Virgil Trucks. Roger Maris and Jim Busby homered for Cleveland.

The Yankees also used home runs to good advantage in beating the Orioles, 3-2. Mickey Mantle's homer off Connie Johnson in the eighth decided the contest after Yogi Berra hit a two-run homer in the first inning. Bob Grim picked up the victory after relieving Art Ditmar in the eighth.

Jackie Jensen's 10th inning single scored Billy Klaus from second with the run that gave relief pitcher Ike Delock of the Red Sox a 4-3 decision over the Senators. Ted Williams tied the score in the eighth with his third home run of the season off loser Bob Chakales.

The Detroit-Chicago game was postponed by rain.

Set N. L. Record
 A three-run triple by rookie Ed

Bouchee followed by a two-run homer off the bat of another rookie, Bob Bowman, highlighted a seven-run sixth inning that gave the Phillies an 8-5 victory over the Pirates. Bob Friend was the victim of both those blows and Stan Lopata also homered off reliever Dick Hall. Southpaw Curt Simmons was the winner although requiring help from Don Cardwell and Bob Miller.

The Cincinnati Redlegs also came up with a seven-run inning in defeating the Chicago Cubs, 9-5, but they did it the hard way with only one hit.

They set a National League record by drawing nine walks in their seven-run fifth, four of the walks forcing in runs. Loser Moe Drabowsky walked four in a row, Jackie Collum yielded three of the passes and Jim Brosnan two. Bob Thurman homered for the Redlegs while Jim Bolger, Cal Neeman and Ernie Banks connected for Chicago. Joe Nuxhall, who pitched the first seven innings, was the winner.

Del Crandall's ninth inning homer off Willard Schmidt gave the Braves their sixth victory in seven starts, an 8-7 triumph over the Cardinals. Joe Adcock, Hank Aaron and Eddie Mathews also homered for the Braves while Del Ennis connected for St. Louis.

A passed ball by Wes Westrum enabled the Dodgers to score what proved to be the winning run in a 4-3 victory over the Giants. Gil Hodges scored from third on the passed ball that climaxed a four-run rally for Brooklyn in the fourth.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Approximately 200 skaters will unfurl "New Blades of 1957" Friday night in Evansville's Municipal Stadium in one of the biggest ice shows ever staged in the Tri-State area.

The show will include 20 acts and will be brightened by colorful sets that have taken months to prepare. Adding to the spectacle will be colored ice, something new in the Evansville stadium.

Skaters will range in age from toddlers to veterans, with several acts including skaters under 10 years old.

Featured performers will be Lydia Herron of Clay, Ky., and Bill Dougherty, a Philadelphia native who is in military service at Ft. Campbell.

Mrs. Herron is a native of Germany and was one of Europe's leading exhibition skaters before coming to the United States. Dougherty was with Ice Capades for two years before entering the Army.

All the acts in "New Blades" will be original, created especially for the show and special lighting equipment will be installed to provide the proper effects for each number.

There will be a show Friday at 8 p. m., a 2 p. m. matinee Saturday and the final performance is scheduled for Saturday at 8 p. m.

Reserved chairback seats are priced at $1.50. The show is sponsored by The Press Youth Fund.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)
Amplifiers are a boon to the hard of hearing. These instruments which increase the volume of sound help to bridge the poor telephone connections on the line-loss of a long-distance call. Amplifiers make distance much shorter when we talk from far-away places. All of us have thoughts which are not clear. We fail to understand things which are said to us. We sometimes wander away from the truth because distractions claim our attention more than the messages which should be foremost in our lives. God is the amplifier who can clarify thinking. We must learn to increase the volume of our spiritual receivers so that we can hear more clearly when God speaks to us. We need more guidance from the Divine so that we shall not become lost in the human distractions of living.
